User Story: Log-in

As a logged-in user, I am able to log-in with Twitter or Facebook. I could share something that I found interesting in this app with my friend on Facebook and ask them to go play with me. Nevertheless, I could also log-in normally with entering several information about me. For example, my name, gender, my living area and interests.